About Nottingham City Council

Demographics

Nottingham is a diverse and vibrant city. The city has a young population; 11.6% of people are aged 65 and older compared with the national average of 18.6%. The population of Nottingham is projected to have increased to 344,300 by 2027, which is a 2% increase from the mid-year estimates of 2020. In the short to medium term, the city is unlikely to follow the national trend of seeing large increases in the number of people over retirement age, although the number aged 85 plus is projected to increase.

Nottingham has high levels of people arriving and leaving the city, with 25% of the population born outside of the UK. Nottingham ranks as the 11th most deprived area in the country, resulting in a high demand for care and support. Labour currently has control of the local authority with 51 councillors out of 55.
